A detailed cadastral map of the Ciadoux commune in the Haute-Garonne department. The map displays numerous land parcels outlined in thin grey lines. A thick black line delineates the commune's boundary. A network of light blue lines represents watercourses, including the Garonne river and several tributaries. A specific area in the eastern-central part of the commune is highlighted in green, indicating the designated sewerage zone. Within this green area, there are several small grey rectangles representing buildings. The map is oriented with North at the top, as indicated by the compass rose in the legend.
